2-4 players

60-90 minutes

15+ age

3.0 weight

CONTINENTAL RAILS

What if Ticket to Ride were a Euro game?

About the Game

A worker-placement game where every worker acts twice: once when you place it, and again when you take it back. You decide when to add or remove workers.

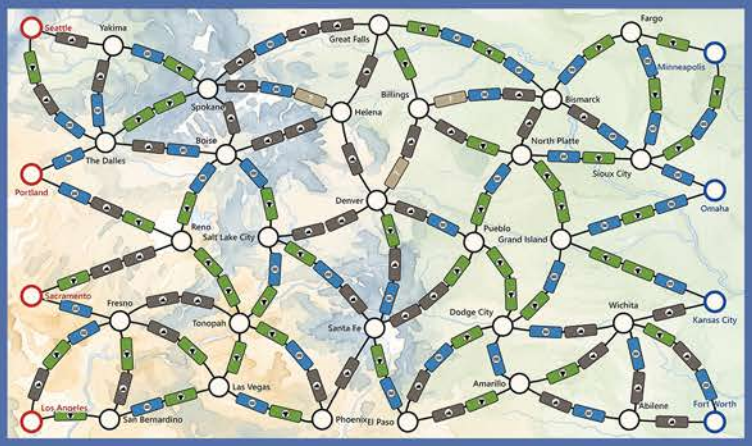

Lay track across America to join the coasts, but track belongs to everybody: every route you lay opens the map to your rivals. Raise stations that earn as their trains pass, and race to lay the last link west to east.

Grow your engine, but beware, it is a race to finish the railway!

Features

- Workers in clusters - each of your workers beside a district multiplies its action.
- An engine that grows - add carriages, hire specialists and fit upgrades to your player board.
- Everyone starts with a track in the eats and a track in the west. Whcih side do you grow first?
- Reimplements Pacific Rails Inc., with the new Pony Express expansion.

Mile by Mile until we meet

Collect

Use a clever worker placement system to gatehr resources.

Build

Grow your engine. Your specialists turn resources into tracks, recruit to build your team.

Lay Track

Connect the cities and gain rewards. Race to be the first to the next city.

Golden Spike

Join the East to the West to end the game and complete the Railway.

Component List

All art is prototype placeholder

Game Board * Player boards * 24 meeples * 80 resources * 70 tokens * 80 cards * 150 track tiles 16 hats

Designer: Dean Morris Contact: dean.a.morris@gmail.com Web: www.wombatgamefactory.com